

Accessories

Sensing & temperature cables · connectors & adapters · mounting & packaging parts

Accessories are a key part of deploying a fiber monitoring system in the field, covering sensing and temperature cables, connectors and adapter assemblies, mounting and packaging parts. GM Sensing supplies them standardized and in series, so interrogators, sensors, field cabling and mounting stay fully compatible and reliably connected, shortening project schedules and easing installation.

Key features

- Sensing / temperature cables: armored, both the sensing medium and rugged enough for the site
- Connectors & adapters: FC/APC connectors, flanges, patch cords and splitter boxes
- Mounting & packaging: bases, clamps, protection tubes and packaging parts for varied conditions
- Standardized delivery: series supply, fully compatible, ready to install on arrival

Specifications

Sensing / temperature cable
Type	Armored sensing cable / temperature cable
Jacket	Metal armor / PE etc. (per site conditions)
Operating temperature	-40~85 °C (typical)
Ingress protection	IP68
Connectors & adapters
Connector	FC/APC
Return loss	≥60 dB (typical)
Insertion loss	≤0.3 dB (typical)
Fittings	Flanges / patch cords / splitter boxes
Mounting & packaging
Components	Bases / clamps / protection tubes
Packaging	Tube / substrate / embedded fittings
Customization	Size, material and interface per project

Standards & interfaces

- FC/APC standard optical connections
- IP68-rated sensing / temperature cables
- Standardized interfaces and fittings, fully compatible
- Size / material / interface customized per project

Final specifications depend on site conditions and selection; parameters may evolve with product iterations and the supply contract prevails.
